PRIVATE CELLULAR NETWORKING FOR BUSINESSES

*Expeto Creates a Global, Secure & Private Network
Wherever There Is a Cellular Connection*

THE MARKET FOR THE INTERNET OF THINGS (IOT) WILL GROW TO $520B BY 2021, MORE THAN DOUBLING OVER THE SPACE OF JUST A FEW YEARS.

By connecting every device everywhere, businesses hope to embrace digital transformation and seize business opportunities while cutting downtime and reducing costs.

For many businesses, the challenge of IT management and unsecured cellular networks makes this dream of digital transformation almost impossible. The public cellular network providers that businesses must work with are complex and costly, offering little to no flexibility, agility, security or transparency.

DEPLOYMENT IS EXPENSIVE, YET BUSINESSES HAVE LITTLE CONTROL

While wireless connectivity is nearly ubiquitous all over the world, businesses struggle to make cellular connections work with their networks. Instead, typically businesses are forced to rely on the cellular provider's proprietary infrastructure to manage devices. This means businesses are confronted with:

- Long, complex deployments across multiple mobile operators
- Limited security options
- Difficulty making simple network changes

Working with cellular providers, businesses have almost no control over the network. Scaling up and deploying new assets can often take weeks or even months when their business depend on speed and agility to succeed in a competitive marketplace.

EXPETO'S SOLUTION: MAKE CELLULAR DEVICES PART OF YOUR NETWORK

Expeto's solution gives businesses complete control and security over any device connected to a mobile cellular network. By extending IT-management functionality to mobile networks, Expeto allows businesses to:

- Configure cellular connections just like private WiFi
- Manage all devices behind a firewall
- Use your own security and network diagnostic tools

By enabling a worldwide private cellular network that spans continents and mobile operators, Expeto makes it finally possible to control all of your cellular-connected devices on a "single pane of glass", centralizing policy control, saving time and reducing costs.

IMPROVE SECURITY, COMPLY WITH REGULATIONS AND REDUCE YOUR COSTS

Expeto gives businesses control of security and access policies for cellular devices connected across multiple mobile operators. This control allows businesses to speed deployment, reduce administrative costs and increase compliance with data privacy, data sovereignty, and security regulations across multiple jurisdictions.
